

PERRY ROTARY

SERVICE ABOVE SELF

This Week @ Perry Rotary

Nancy's Notes

Looked like we were going to be pretty light on attendance today but by 12:15 a few more trickled in. PPFred was our fearless leader who said he was PEleanor—but I didn't think he looked like her, she has more hair. The birds were cawing once again as PPHans asked for support for his bird sightings.

PPWoody was fined, I think $5. He had some car trouble. The man fixing it was stopped for speeding and then Woody's car also was past the inspection date. Woody is paying up in more ways than one.

The good news for PPEric B. there are no tuition bills this month, plus Christian has 7-1 stats in his tennis prowess as a freshman. He has also been away and has a gift for PE—but paid a $10 fine anyway.

PPJeff F. knew the flood was coming in Pensacola so he went a week early to see his mom. Being questioned about what he brought back for the Pres. from his trip, PPJeff replied PE took care of that last week. PPFred says where was I; PPJeff said it wasn't my turn to watch you last week. No fine for PPJeff.

Someone just happened to bring up the fact that PPJeff just purchased a new corvette which ought to be worth something in a fine. $60 in a fine wasn't too bad since the tires on the vette cost $2000.

Maureen went to NYC with friends to view a movie her godson's production company was involved in. The last time they visited him they didn't get to see his apt. but this one must be better because he invited them to see it. Educational the trip could be called because they did go to the Met Museum. A $10 hat meant for PE, PPFred will keep but the book will be for PE. 4 days 4 bucks.

Don O' gone to a Sexual Assault Conference, still had time to think of PE with the famous Seattle cherries. He gets to travel on drug $ not tax payers $. $10 fine for him because his daughter got her first hit while he was gone. Imagine how good she is—a 7th grader on Varsity.

PPWes and Mikey celebrate their togetherness of 28 years. That's pretty darn good. They attended Derek's recital, The New York State of Mind at Penn State. All the pieces were composed by NY staters.

They were also able to visit the farm where Derek will be working this summer. PPWes' grandsons were in Ohio wrestling once again. Kudos to all those grandsons. Mikey and PPWes did remember PE with books and Moose Tracks. Of course, PPFred kept the Moose Tracks and saved the books for PE. Fine was $5—they put in another five to make it a $10.

To end the meeting PPFred directed Sergeant of Arms, Kevin to collect $1 from everyone without his/her button.

WINGS Flights of Hope

Our speakers today, Peter and Barbara Parsons represented a flight service non-profit organization. The organization is made up of 10-15 pilots who are on call to help people who need medical procedures out of area to be able to get where they need to be. With only few requirements for the people to be transported, these volunteers help anyone who needs them. They do about 300 flight missions a year. Our own Sally Bliss' daughter availed herself of their services last year when she needed to be transported to Sloan Kettering with an unusual tumor. Sally attested to the fact that the service was wonderful.

Another good program. Thanks Roger and Hans.

*Serving Our Local and World Communities
Since 1924*

Looking Ahead

Reminders

Raffle tickets due May 8/May 15 drawing on the May 22
Lady Lions Softball Tourney May 30-June 1

Upcoming Programs

May 8th—NFL Referee
May 15—Dr. Bill Stavisky
May 22—Don O' Raffle Drawing and United Way